

EdTechPro Privacy Policy and Legal Notice

This Privacy Policy and Legal Notice sets out how we use and protects your personal data, including through your use of this website, and any data you may provide when you enquire about our services, purchase any product or service or sign up to receive any newsletters or updates about our products and services.

It also contains important information about who we are.

Who we are

This website and our services are provided by EDTECHPRO LTD, a private limited company registered in England with company number 15815687, VAT Registration Number 471 4855 72. Our registered office is located at 6 Portland Business Centre Manor House Lane, Datchet, Slough, England, SL3 9EG.

You can contact us by email at Support@edtechpro.co.uk.

We refer to ourselves throughout this document as “we”, “us”, “our” etc. or EDTECHPRO.

Our work with schools and who to contact

At EDTECHPRO, we provide software and educational support services to schools and other customers. While delivering these services, we may process personal data such as pupil, staff, and parent/guardian information on behalf of our customers. In this context, the school or customer remains the data controller, which means they determine the purposes and means of processing this data. EDTECHPRO acts as a data processor, following the instructions provided by the data controller. This privacy policy does not cover the data processing activities we perform on behalf of our customers. For any questions or concerns regarding the processing of personal data such as pupil, staff, or parent/guardian information, please contact the relevant school or customer directly, as they are the data controllers responsible for this information.

Our role as a controller

In addition to serving our customers, EDTECHPRO acts as a data controller for the personal data we collect through our own website and our sales and marketing activities. This includes information provided by visitors to our website, and data about our customers and potential customers.

This website is not intended for children, and we do not knowingly collect or process data relating to children in our role as a data controller. We do process children's data on some of our products where we act as a Data Processor, we hold an agreement with clients where we process this data.

1. The types of personal data we collect about you

Personal data means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified.

We may collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of personal data about you which we have grouped together as follows:

- Identity Data includes first name, last name, any previous names, username or similar identifier, title, date of birth and gender, role within the company.
- Contact Data includes billing address, delivery address, email address and telephone numbers.
- Financial Data includes bank account and payment card details.
- Transaction Data includes details about payments to and from you and other details of products and services you have purchased from us.
- Technical Data includes internet protocol (IP) address, your login data, browser type and version, time zone setting and location, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform, device ID and other technology on the devices you use to access this website.
- Profile Data includes your username and password, purchases or orders made by your organisation, your interests, preferences, feedback and survey responses.
- Usage Data includes information about how you interact with and use our website, products and services.
- Marketing and Communications Data includes your preferences in receiving marketing from us and our third parties and your communication preferences.

We also collect, use and share aggregated data such as statistical or demographic data which is not personal data as it does not directly (or indirectly) reveal your identity. For example, we may aggregate individuals' Usage Data to calculate the percentage of users accessing a specific website feature in order to analyse general trends in how users are interacting with our website to help improve the website and our service offering.

2. How is your personal data collected?

We use different methods to collect data from and about you including through:

- Your interactions with us. You may give us your personal data by filling in online forms or by corresponding with us by post, phone, email or otherwise. This includes personal data you provide when you:
 - express an interest in our products or services;
 - request marketing to be sent to you;
 - enter a competition, promotion or survey; or
 - give us feedback or contact us.
- Automated technologies or interactions. As you interact with our website, we will automatically collect Technical Data about your equipment, browsing actions and patterns. We collect this personal data by using cookies, server logs and other similar technologies. We may also receive Technical Data about you if you visit other websites employing our cookies. Please see our cookie policy on our website for further details.
- Third parties or publicly available sources. We will receive personal data about you from various third parties and public sources as set out below:
 - Technical Data is collected from the following parties:
 - analytics providers such as Google;
 - advertising networks such as Educeek; and
 - search information providers such as Google/Microsoft.
 - Contact, Financial and Transaction Data is collected from providers of technical, payment and delivery services such as Xero and Freshbooks.
 - Identity and Contact Data is collected from data brokers or aggregators.
 - Identity and Contact Data is collected from publicly available sources such as Companies House, school and council websites and LinkedIn.
 - Identity and Contact Data may also be collected from existing clients as recommendations.

3. How we use your personal data

Legal basis

The law requires us to have a legal basis for collecting and using your personal data. We rely on one or more of the following legal bases:

- Performance of a contract with you: Where we need to perform the contract we are about to enter into or have entered into with you.
- Legitimate interests: We may use your personal data where it is necessary to conduct our business and pursue our legitimate interests, for example to prevent fraud and enable us to give you the best and most secure customer experience. We make sure we consider and balance any potential impact on you and your rights (both positive and negative) before we process your personal data for our legitimate interests. We do not use your personal data for activities where our interests are overridden by the impact on you (unless we have your consent or are otherwise required or permitted to by law).
- Legal obligation: We may use your personal data where it is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation that we are subject to. We will identify the relevant legal obligation when we rely on this legal basis.
- Consent: We rely on consent only where we have obtained your active agreement to use your personal data for a specified purpose, for example if you subscribe to an email newsletter.

Purposes for which we will use your personal data

We have set out below, in a table format, a description of all the ways we plan to use the various categories of your personal data, and which of the legal bases we rely on to do so. We have also identified what our legitimate interests are where appropriate.

To carry out market research through your voluntary participation in surveys		Necessary for our legitimate interests (to study how customers use our products/services and to help us improve and develop our products and services). We will retain this data for as long as it is relevant to our ongoing business or the operation of the website.

Direct marketing

You will receive marketing communications from us if you have requested information from us or purchased goods or services from us on behalf of your organisation and you have not opted out of receiving the marketing.

We may also analyse your Identity, Contact, Technical, Usage and Profile Data to form a view which products, services and offers may be of interest to your organisation so that we can then send you relevant marketing communications.

Third-party marketing

We will get your express consent before we share your personal data with any third party for their own direct marketing purposes.

Opting out of marketing

You can ask to stop sending you marketing communications at any time by contacting us as set out below.

If you opt out of receiving marketing communications, you will still receive service-related communications that are essential for administrative or customer service purposes.

Cookies

For more information about the cookies we use and how to change your cookie preferences, please see our Cookies Policy on our main website <https://edtechpro.co.uk>

4. Disclosures of your personal data

We may share your personal data where necessary with the parties set out below for the purposes set out in the table Purposes for which we will use your personal data above.

- External third parties, including.
 - IT Service Providers, such as CRM service providers, cloud storage providers, data backup and recovery services, network and infrastructure providers, and application and software vendors.
 - Professional Advisors, such as legal advisors, accountants and auditors.
 - Marketing and Advertising Partners, such as digital marketing agencies, email marketing service providers, social media advertising platforms, and market research firms.
 - Affiliate and Partner Organizations, such as joint venture partners, business affiliates, and subsidiaries and parent companies.
 - Analytical and Reporting Services, such as data analytics providers, business intelligence tools, and performance monitoring services.
 - Financial and Debt Services, such as banks, debt collection agencies.
 - Compliance and Fraud Prevention Services, such as compliance management services, fraud detection and prevention tools, and security monitoring providers.
- Third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this privacy policy.

We require all third parties to respect the security of your personal data and to treat it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal data for their own purposes and only permit them to process your personal data for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

5. International transfers

We do not currently transfer your personal data outside the UK and EEA. If this changes, we will ensure a similar degree of protection is afforded to your personal data by ensuring that the following safeguards are in place:

- we will only transfer your personal data to countries that have been deemed by the UK to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data; or
- we may use specific standard contractual terms approved for use in the UK which give the transferred personal data the same protection as it has in the UK.

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected personal data breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

6. Data retention

How long will you use my personal data for?

We will only retain your personal data for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or reporting requirements. We may retain your personal data for a longer period in the event of a complaint or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation in respect to our relationship with you.

To determine the appropriate retention period for personal data, we consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the personal data, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal data, the purposes for which we process your personal data and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal, regulatory, tax, accounting or other requirements.

By law we have to keep basic information about our customers (including Contact, Identity, Financial and Transaction Data) for six years after they cease being customers for tax purposes.

In some circumstances you can ask us to delete your data: see below for further information.

In some circumstances we will anonymise your personal data (so that it can no longer be associated with you) for research or statistical purposes, in which case we may use this information indefinitely without further notice to you.

7. Your legal rights

You have a number of rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data.

You have the right to:

- Request access to your personal data (commonly known as a "subject access request"). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- Request correction of the personal data that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate data we hold about you corrected, though we may need to verify the accuracy of the new data you provide to us.
- Request erasure of your personal data in certain circumstances. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data where you have successfully exercised your right to object to processing (see below), where we may have processed your information unlawfully or where we are required to erase your personal data to comply with local law. Note, however, that we may not always be able to comply with your request of erasure for specific legal reasons which will be notified to you, if applicable, at the time of your request.
- Object to processing of your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) as the legal basis for that particular use of your data (including carrying out profiling based on our legitimate interests). In some cases, we may demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate grounds to process your information which override your right to object.

- You also have the absolute right to object any time to the processing of your personal data for direct marketing purposes (see above for details of how to object to receiving direct marketing communications).
- Request the transfer of your personal data to you or to a third party. We will provide to you, or a third party you have chosen, your personal data in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format. Note that this right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.
- Request restriction of processing of your personal data. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of your personal data in one of the following scenarios:
 - If you want us to establish the data's accuracy;
 - Where our use of the data is unlawful but you do not want us to erase it;
 - Where you need us to hold the data even if we no longer require it as you need it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims; or
 - You have objected to our use of your data but we need to verify whether we have overriding legitimate grounds to use it.

If you wish to exercise any of the rights set out above, please contact us using the details below.

No fee usually required

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we could refuse to comply with your request in these circumstances.

What we may need from you

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access your personal data (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it. We may also contact you to ask you for further information in relation to your request to speed up our response.

Time limit to respond

We try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month. Occasionally it could take us longer than a month if your request is particularly complex or you have made a number of requests. In this case, we will notify you and keep you updated.

8. Contact details

If you have any questions about this privacy policy or about the use of your personal data or you want to exercise your privacy rights, please contact us by email at Support@edtechpro.co.uk

9. Complaints

You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK regulator for data protection issues (www.ico.org.uk). We would, however, appreciate the chance to deal with your concerns before you approach the ICO so please contact us in the first instance.

10. Changes to the privacy policy and your duty to inform us of changes

We keep our privacy policy under regular review.

It is important that the personal data we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal data changes during your relationship with us, for example a new address or email address.

11. Third-party links

This website may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party websites and are not responsible for their privacy statements. When you leave our website, we encourage you to read the privacy policy of every website you visit.
